Prof. Dr. Şeref Ateş
President

We greet all our readers with this new issue,

We continue to tell the whole world about the tragic night, the events and the national will that triumphed that night with the slogan "Continue in SOE", on the anniversary of the heinous attempt staged with the aim of invading Turkey. We were the first to talk about the background of this heinous attack and the events that took place during the invasion attempt in all its reality and through correct sources at 138 points in 60 countries. We continued to explain July 15th on the anniversary of July 15th Victory of Democracy and Martyrs' Memorial Day in a variety of activities ranging from exhibitions to panels, and book distributions to marathons. We will continue to explain July 15th to the world, hoping that such events will never happen again and may all our citizens who lost their lives rest in peace. We will never forget the martyrs who sacrificed their lives for the homeland and we will not allow it.

Yunus Emre Enstitüsü, teaching tens of thousands of people of different languages, religions, races and nationalities in five different continents of the world, brought together 700 students from 57 countries with Turkey, Turkish people and language this year with the Turkish Summer School that has been organized every year for eight years. Students who have successfully completed Turkish courses in Yunus Emre Enstitüsü centres in their respective countries or who study in Turcology departments at universities abroad with which we signed protocols, took Turkish lessons at 23 universities in 22 cities, and visited those cities and neighbouring cities blending their Turkish and their feelings about Turkey with the ancient culture of Anatolia. The closing ceremony of the Turkish Summer School with an increasing number of students, was held under the auspices of Turkish President Mr. Recep Tayyip Erdoğan, at the veteran Presidential Complex of Turkish nation. We crowned the Closing Ceremony of Turkish Summer School held in this meaningful place, with greetings of Turkish President Mr. Recep Tayyip Erdoğan, Prime Minister Mr. Binali Yıl-dırım and Minister of Culture and Tourism Mr. Numan Kurtulmuş. Our students sent us letters in which they shared their memories in Turkey where they spent nearly a month and their dreams for 20 years later. As Yunus Emre Enstitüsü, we will continue our struggle to fulfil the dreams in these letters entrusted to us on behalf of entire Turkish nation.

Although it was difficult, the month we spent together with 700 students ended with a farewell event in Istanbul. We bade farewell to "our children" who had "unforgettable memories" and experienced Turkish hospitality. We were left with thousands of words implying that they lived the best days of their lives in Turkey, the traces left behind from the emotions they brought along with them and the tears they shed.

We also held the last Turkish Proficiency Test of this year in August. With the last Turkish Proficiency Exam of the year participated by nearly 700 candidates, the number of students who have taken the test since 2013 reached 4 thousand 900. The candidates both tested their Turkish skills and obtained a globally recognized language certificate.

One of the cultural diplomacy activities we carried out was the Turkey tour we organized for Chinese journalists in June. The reflections of their experiences in Turkey were also impressive. Journalists shared their impressions on Istanbul and Blue Cruise with the media outlets they work with in China. We once more realized that the centre we plan to open in Beijing, is an on-point venture.

In this issue, we will introduce the history and staff of Nicosia Yunus Emre Enstitüsü, which started its operations in foster-land Cyprus in 2015.

Hope you will enjoy this issue.

YUNUS EMRE ENSTİTÜSÜ

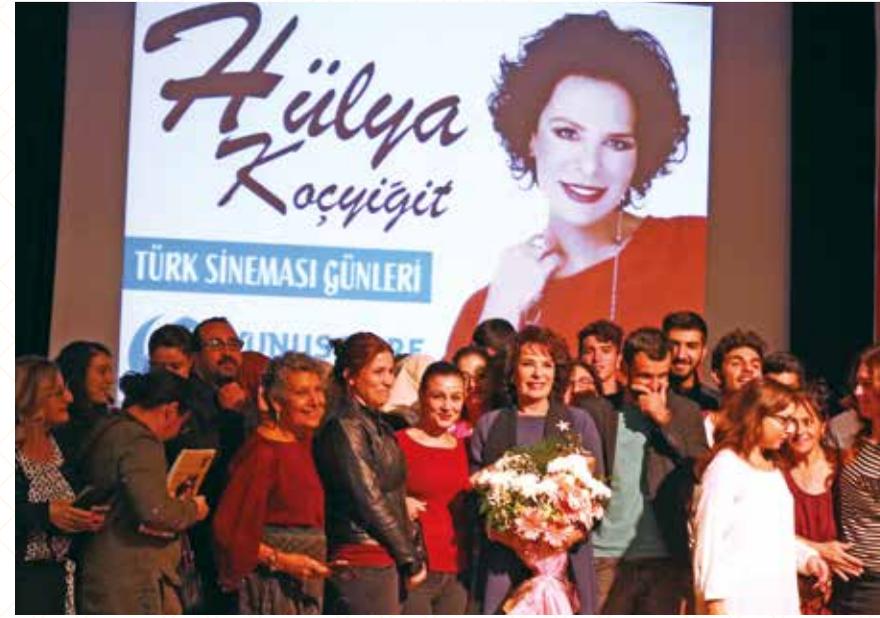

Nicosia Yunus Emre Enstitüsü was opened on December 1st, 2015 in Northern Cyprus, referred to as "Foster-land", "Green Island" and "Paradise Island" in Turkey. Turkish, initially spoken in Cyprus in 1571, still survives today as the official language of Turkish Cypriots. For this reason, most Turkish language trainees in the Enstitü are visiting students from Northern Cyprus, foreigners living in the island and Greek Cypriot citizens. In addition, Enstitü continues to carry out protocol works with leading Northern Cyprus universities on "teaching Turkish to visiting students". Cypriot culture is an extension of Anatolian Turkish culture however having hosted various civilizations throughout the history, Cyprus has made an authentic synthesis. Revealing this cultural wealth and consolidating the cultural bridges between Turkey and Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus are among important missions of Nicosia Yunus Emre Enstitüsü. For this purpose, Enstitü has been working to revive the traditional Turkish handicrafts since its establishment and organizes "Workshop Days" and "First Step into Art" activities, film screenings and interviews under "Turkish Cinema Days"; various concerts, exhibitions, and many conferences on Turkey and Turkish Cypriot culture. Located in an 800 years old historical building in historical Wall City in Nicosia, the centre organizes Turkish courses next to Ottoman Turkish and traditional handicraft courses. Nicosia Yunus Emre Enstitüsü that has attracted the attention of Turkish Cypriots since its opening, continues its activities with its staff of five, consisting of a director, lecturers and local staff.

changes in his schedule, stated the following in the message he sent for the ceremony: "I wish the Turkish Summer School program, organized by Yunus Emre Enstitüsü for the 8th time this year, to be beneficial. I hope that the students who have been in Turkey for nearly a month will leave our country with beautiful memories. I regard everyone who participated in the program as a voluntary envoy of Turkish country and nation. Language, especially foreign language, requires care and labour. Learning the language is as difficult as preserving it. Our students need to use what they have learnt here and improve their Turkish skills. I congratulate the esteemed president and staff of the Enstitü for making such a contribution, and I offer my gratitude to everyone involved."

Prime Minister Yıldırım: YEE raises Turkey's voluntary envoys

Prime Minister Binali Yıldırım stated that they established

Yunus Emre Enstitüsü to carry out operations to promote Turkish culture, language and art to the world, and said that Yunus Emre Enstitüsü carries out operations in 60 countries at 5 continents, provides 10 thousand students with Turkish instruction and also reaches 20 thousand students through distance learning method.

Pointing out that today diplomacy is not a task carried out solely through official contacts between countries, Yıldırım stated that the young people now have a big share in diplomacy. Yıldırım marked that the young people will become voluntary envoys of Turkey in their home countries and explained that throughout the program, the young students visited many cities in eastern and western Turkey, meeting with people and visiting natural beauties.

Prime Minister Yıldırım said, "This is a beautiful operation. I would like to congratulate Yunus Emre Enstitüsü on this occasion who conducted to this program."

Meaningful gift to Prime Minister Yıldırım from Somalian children

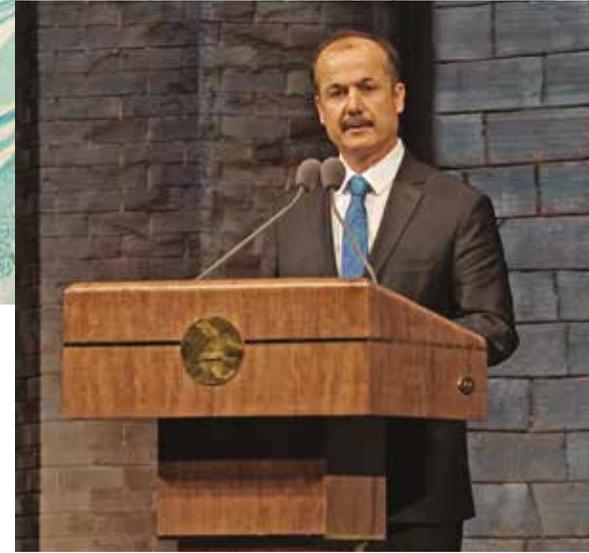

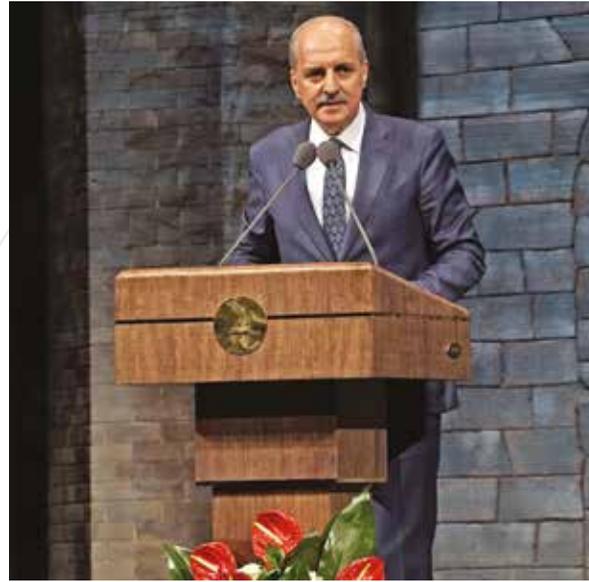

Following Prime Minister Yıldırım's speech, Yunus Emre Enstitüsü President Prof. Dr. Şeref Ateş presented the Prime Minister with "loh", a writing board Somalian students use instead of notebooks due to poverty, which features the quote "Do not be sad for Allah is with us" from the 40th verse of the Tevbe Surah.

Minister Kurtulmuş: "You have learned a language of heart"

Turkish Minister of Culture and Tourism Numan Kurtulmuş started his speech by expressing his gratitude and respect to President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan, who encouraged the Enstitü from the day it was established and opened the doors of the Presidential Complex for this activity by Yunus Emre Enstitüsü. Kurtulmuş stated that during his prime ministry, President Erdoğan determined that YEE would be one of the major centres for making Turkish widespread and spoke as follows; "Today, Yunus Emre Enstitüsü, that operates at nearly 138 points from Africa to Asia, from America to Latin America, and makes efforts to explain Turkish language and culture to our brothers, sisters and friends with all its aspects, has achieved a great success."

Kurtulmuş, who said that the letter written by Palestinian Muhammad Natse touched him deeply, spoke as follows: "You have been travelling in Turkey for a month and have learned Turkish as a language of heart. We would like to thank both you and Yunus Emre Enstitüsü. We see each of you as young people who will be very successful in 20 years. I will keep the letter of my brother Muhammad, who sent me the letter, until the end of my life. A large part of Muhammad's dreams are those of 80 million people living in this country. We all dream that Palestine and Middle East will live in peace as in the past."

Prof. Ateş: "There is room for every nation in the shade of this tree"

Yunus Emre Enstitüsü President Prof. Dr. Şeref Ateş marked that as Yunus Emre Enstitüsü they offer services at a total of 138 points in 60 countries, and continued his speech as follows: "The common point which has brought us together with hundreds of young people who came to Turkey to participate in this program, is our language Turkish. We see Turkish as a tree with fixed deep roots, and with branches reaching to the sky. There is room for every nation in the shade of this tree. We are the heirs of a civilization which regards the differences on the world as wealth. In our opinion, different cultures, different civilizations are means of getting together, meeting, and bonding. "Yunus Emre Enstitüsü, conjured in 2009 and has reached 60 countries with centres and liaison offices on five continents of the world, makes the deep-rooted voice of ancient Anatolian culture heard around the world. But we are not satisfied with that, and we will not be. We will make Yunus Emre Enstitüsü a global brand with your support and patronage. Today, the young people have shared with and entrusted their dreams to us. With this responsibility in mind, we will work diligently for a future in which the reality will go beyond our dreams."

Turkish letters written to future were touching

Photography: Yasin İl

Students from Azerbaijan, Albania and Palestine in Yunus Emre Enstitüsü Turkish Summer School program, read the letters they wrote in Turkish where they illustrated the world in their dreams 20 years later with the theme "Letters to the Future 2017". Palestinian Muhammad Natsheh cried out to the world his dream for the future in his letter.

Muhammad Natsheh caught the attention of Turkish Prime Minister Binali Yıldırım, Minister of Culture and Tourism Numan Kurtulmuş and Yunus Emre Enstitüsü President Şeref Ateş with his emotional letter. We got the chance to hold a short interview with Palestinian Muhammad Natsheh and asked him about his feelings and thoughts about Turkey.

Could you tell us a bit about yourself?

My name is Muhammad Natsheh. I am from Palestine, and

I live in Jerusalem. I'm 33 years old. I am from Yunus Emre Enstitüsü centre in Jerusalem. This summer I visited your country to attend the Turkish Summer School organized by Yunus Emre Enstitüsü. I have been in Turkey for nearly a month. I visited magnificent cities, I met with wonderful people.

What about your education and your profession?

I studied computer science at Abdullah Bin Hussein University in Jerusalem, but I have not worked in this field. I worked in a communication company for 3 years. Now I'm a toy salesman.

How did you decide to learn Turkish?

Because I love Turkey and Turkish language.

Were you familiar with Turkey? What have you heard about Turkey since childhood? What do you know about Turkey?

The ties of fraternity and friendship between Turks and Palestinians are very strong. We have strong historical relations, and shared histories. Turks have always been on Palestine's side. I've known this since I was a kid. This is why Turks are my dear brothers and sisters.

When did you first visit Turkey?

I visited Turkey in 2016 for the first time to attend Yunus Emre Enstitüsü Turkish Summer School. This year I participated in the student group in Sakarya. What are your impressions on Sakarya?

I loved Sakarya. A very calm, peaceful, lush city. People are as warm, hospitable and generous.

You are in Turkey for a month. Have you any favourite foods? Which is your favourite Turkish dish?

Palestinian and Turkish cuisines are quite similar. Especially Sakarya Kebab and Kemalpaşa dessert are my favourites. I also liked Inegöl Meatballs I had in Bursa. What is your dream for the future?

I want Palestine to become a free country like Turkey one day. I hope that one day Palestine will become a developed, powerful and independent country like Turkey. The Palestinians are entitled to it.

What is your biggest dream for the world?

I wish peace all over the world. I want wars to come to an end, never to happen again, and children to live happily in a peaceful world. I hope all these wishes will come true.

In Turkey, there was a coup attempt on July 15th. How did you feel on July 15th?

I was in Palestine. We followed the events on television and social media. The news did upset and sadden us, we were very worried. That nightmare lasted until the morning. We prayed a lot for Turkey.

Those who staged the coup are enemies of nation and democracy. They are traitors for me. I do not like traitors because they do not like Turkey. They do not want Turkey to be a developed and free country. They do not want Turkey to help Palestine as well. They do not wish for Turkey to get better, become more developed, and peaceful.

Young people from 57 different countries visited Turkey with you for Turkish Summer School. How did you feel?

People from different countries and different cultures coming together is a tremendous wealth. We established new friendships, learned our differences, and discovered the common aspects. We realized how alike we are as people on various issues.

What would you like to say about Yunus Emre Enstitüsü?

I would like to thank Turkish Republic and President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan before Yunus Emre Enstitüsü. Yunus Emre Enstitüsü and universities hosted us very well throughout the Turkish Summer School program. Turkish people as a nation are very generous. I admire Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan. God bless him. I always pray for him and for Turkey. President Erdoğan has revived the sensitivity Sultan Abdulhamid showed for Palestine. I hope that with the support of your President and efforts and support of all conscientious people, Palestine will be a free and independent country like Turkey one day. I wholeheartedly believe in it.
